

Environment Centre Photography Competition

Are you a budding local photographer? Do you know your plover from your sandpiper? Do you explore the landscape with your lens?

Then enter the NUDC Environment Centre photography competition.

The new Environment Centre currently being developed in Lochmaddy by North Uist Development Company will showcase the unique natural environment of Uist and Barra, providing tourism information, a new visitor attraction and, acting as an educational engagement point demonstrating the importance of conservation practices for future generations.

We are now developing content for the exhibition in the Environment Centre, thanks to funding from the Islands Green Recovery Programme, and this is your chance to have your photograph displayed for all to see in the permanent exhibition space. They say a picture is worth a thousand words – how will you convey yours?

There are 4 categories:

Best landscape photograph: Photographs should capture the interconnected nature of our islands' surrounding landscape, explaining the world beneath our feet in one shot.

Best environmental story photograph: Photographs should provide visual representation of the environmental issues our islands are facing. Photographs should tell a powerful impactful story that grips viewers and raises questions.

Best wildlife photograph: Photographs should focus on iconic species to Uist and Barra and/or endangered species, expressing the character and journey of that species.

Best wildlife photograph (for those under 16): Photographs should focus on iconic species to Uist and Barra and/or endangered species, expressing the character and journey of that species through a young islander's eyes.

Photographs should be submitted to nudc@isleofnorthuist.com by Monday the 31st of May at 23:59, and should have a minimum resolution of 1600 x 1200 pixels.